SECOND ANNUAL REGION 4 FOX TROT FALL FESTIVAL HORSE SHOW ANNOUNCED

The Kansas City Regional Fox Trotting Horse Association (KCRFTHA) and the St. Louis Regional Fox Trotters (STLRFT) are pleased to announce the second REGION 4 FOX TROT FALL FESTIVAL Horse Show on Saturday, September 30, 2017 at the Missouri State Fair Grounds in Sedalia, Mo.

The KCRFTHA and STLRFT, along with the MFTHBA Region 4 Director, launched this event in 2016. “The 2016 show went really well,” shared MFTHBA Region 4 Director, Amber Wilson. “The enthusiasm and support of the exhibitors and sponsors was tremendous.”

Trainer Bryan Biggs hauled horses from Fayetteville, Arkansas to attend the show. He shared his thoughts on the first time event. “First of all, I love the facility. It was a pretty neutral location for the most part and it was nice to have a fall show. I wish we could have more shows there,” Mr. Biggs shared. “The show went smoothly and was not over too late.”

Based in the support we received, the planning team knew the show needed to continue in 2017. The core planning team is made up of Amy Stangl, Chris McQueen and Amber Wilson, but support came from the entire Missouri Fox Trotting Horse breed. “The number of people that stepped up to help us get sponsors, encourage exhibitors to attend and volunteer at the show was truly inspiring,” added Ms. Wilson.

In 2017, the Region 4 Fox Trot Fall Festival will again feature Missouri Fox Trotting Horse performance classes along with Open Gaited Breed versatility classes in a one day show format. “We are excited to be partnering with the Missouri State Fairgrounds again in Sedalia, Missouri, to host the show,” adds Chris McQueen, STLRFT and planning team member. “It is a wonderful opportunity to showcase our breed at a venue we do not currently host a show and to be able to feature the Missouri state horse at the state fairgrounds.”

While organized and hosted by the affiliates in Region 4, the show is open to all exhibitors regardless of the location of their residence

Exhibitors are encouraged to visit the show website for additional show information. Sponsorship opportunities are also available.
